

Privacy Policy

We respect your privacy and are committed to protecting your personal information.

1. Information We Collect

We collect your name, email, phone number, address, and, in some cases, tax ID (for invoicing and compliance).

2. Use of Information

We only use this information to provide services, maintain accounts, and comply with legal obligations.

3. Storage of Information

Your information is stored securely on our own servers in the United States.

4. Sharing of Information

We do not share your personal data with third parties, unless required by law or when strictly necessary to provide you access to specific services. In such cases, we may share your data with trusted business partners or service providers with whom we collaborate. These partners are contractually bound to protect your information and use it only for the agreed purpose.

5. Cookies

Our website uses cookies only for basic functionality, such as keeping you logged in and remembering your preferences. We do not use marketing, advertising, or tracking cookies. Most cookies are session-based and expire once you close your browser.

6. Data Retention

We retain your personal data only as long as necessary to provide our services, maintain your account, or comply with legal obligations. Please note that certain information (such as billing records and tax-related data) must be retained by law and cannot be deleted until the mandatory retention period expires.

7. Security

We implement reasonable technical and organizational measures to protect your personal information against unauthorized access, alteration, or disclosure.

By using our services, you agree to this Privacy Policy.